2. When you enter the number and hit Enter on your keyboard, a chat window will appear in the bottom right corner of your screen. Type your message in the chat window and hit Enter. Your message will be sent to the phone number you entered. If your contact replies, the text message response will appear as a reply in the chat window. These conversations are stored in your Chat history just like regular chats.

(I suggest you practice sending text messages from your Gmail account to yourself so you can see how it looks as the receiver and how it works as the sender)

FAQs?

What is the charge to send SMS text through Gmail?

When sending text messages through Gmail, the sender is not charged and it is free of service.

What is the charge for the person receiving text from Gmail?

Mobile phone subscribers may be charged depending on which mobile plans they operate for their phone. Standard text messaging rates would apply if they were charged.

Does the person receiving my text from Gmail have to be a Gmail subscriber?

No. The recipient would reply to the message as they would any other text message and their message appears as a chat message in your Gmail chat window.

Is there a limit on the number of text messages I can send from Gmail?

There is a quota that is an allocation of SMS (text messages) that you're able to send to a mobile phone:

- Initially, you're granted a quota of fifty messages.
- Every time you send a message, your quota decreases by one.
- Every time you receive an SMS message in Chat (for example when a phone user replies to one of your messages) your quota increases by five, up to a maximum of 50.

If your quota goes down to zero at any point, it will increase back up to one 24 hours later. So, you won't ever be locked out of the system
